STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE DECIDED

2 1. Whether the proposed Settlement Agreement falls within the “range of possible 3 approval” that justifies giving notice because the Court will likely be able to approve the 4 settlement proposal under Rule 23(e)(2), and should, therefore, be preliminarily approved by 5 the Court.

6 2. Whether the proposed Settlement Classes meet the requirements of Federal Rule 7 of Civil Procedure 23(a) and (b), and should be certified for settlement purposes.

8 3. Whether Lead Counsel for Plaintiffs (“Class Counsel”) should be appointed as 9 Settlement Class Counsel and the Class Representatives identified in the ANA Settlement 10 Agreement be appointed as Class Representatives on behalf of the Settlement Classes.

11 4. Whether the proposed notice plan and forms fairly apprise potential class 12 members of the existence of the settlements in this action and their rights under them.

13 5. Whether the proposed notice plan and forms conform to the requirements of 14 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 and due process.

15 6. Whether Class Counsel’s proposed plan of allocation is fair, reasonable, and 16 adequate.

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, Plaintiffs hereby move this Court for an order preliminarily approving the class action settlement Plaintiffs reached with the sole, remaining Defendant in this action, All Nippon Airways Co., Ltd. (“ANA”). A copy of the Settlement Agreement is attached as Exhibit A to the Joint Declaration of Settlement Class Counsel (“Joint Decl.”). The Settlement resolves all claims brought by Plaintiffs against ANA, who will pay $58 million.

The Court should preliminarily approve Plaintiffs’ settlement with ANA because it is within the range of possible final approval and justifies giving notice to the proposed Settlement Classes. Further, the Court will be able to finally approve the settlement under Rule 23(e)(2) because the ANA Settlement easily satisfies that standard. The Settlement is the result of informed and hard-fought and arms’ length negotiations, and it is fair, reasonable, and adequate. See Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th Cir. 1992). The monetary recovery for the class is significant. Indeed, at $58 million, the settlement is nearly three times the recovery Plaintiffs obtained from any other defendant in this long-running litigation. Thus, the Settlement satisfies the requirements for final approval and is thus worthy of preliminary approval.

Applying Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Court should certify the three proposed Settlement Classes (the “Settlement Classes”),¹ defined as:

Settlement Class I (“Japan Settlement Class”): All persons and entities that directly purchased tickets for passenger air transportation from JAL or ANA, or any predecessor, subsidiary or affiliate thereof, that originated in the United States and included at least one flight segment from the United States to Japan between the period beginning February 1, 2005 and ending December 31, 2007. Excluded from the class are any tickets that did not include a fuel surcharge. Excluded from the class are any antitrust immunized fares agreed upon at IATA “Tariff Coordinating Conferences.” Excluded from the class are tickets exclusively acquired through award or reward travel or any tickets acquired for infant travel

¹ See Joint Decl. Ex. A ¶ 3 (ANA Settlement Agreement). Settlement Classes I, II, and III are not mutually exclusive. One can be a member of multiple classes. Settlement Classes I and II are identical to the classes this Court certified for litigation purposes. See Order Granting Mot. Class Cert., ECF No. 1224 (certifying Japan and Satogaeri Classes).

1 with a 90% discount. Also excluded from the class are purchases by government 2 entities, Defendants, any parent subsidiary or affiliate thereof, and Defendants' or 3 any other commercial airline's officers, directors, employees, agents, and 4 immediate families.

5 Settlement Class II ("Satogaeri Settlement Class"): All persons and entities that 6 directly purchased Satogaeri fares from JAL or ANA or any predecessor, 7 subsidiary or affiliate thereof that originated in the United States and included at 8 least one flight segment to Japan and does not include travel to countries other 9 than the United States and Japan between the period beginning January 1, 2000 10 and ending April 1, 2006. Excluded from the class are purchases by government 11 entities, Defendants, any parent subsidiary or affiliate thereof, and Defendants' 12 officers, directors, employees and immediate families. Also excluded are 13 purchases of "Satogaeri Special" and maerui satogaeri fares.

14 Settlement Class III: All persons and entities that purchased passenger air 15 transportation originating in the United States that included at least one flight 16 segment to Asia or Oceania, from or on any of the Defendants, or any 17 predecessor, subsidiary, or affiliate thereof, at any time between January 1, 2000 18 and December 1, 2016. Excluded from the class are governmental entities, 19 Defendants, former Defendants in the Action, any parent, subsidiary or affiliate 20 thereof, and Defendants' officers, directors, employees and immediate families.

21 Rule 23(a)'s requirements of numerosity, commonality, typicality, and adequacy are 22 easily met with respect to the foregoing proposed settlement classes. See, e.g., Hanlon v.
 23 Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1019 (9th Cir. 1998); In re TFT-LCD (Flat Panel) Antitrust
 24 Litig., 267 F.R.D. 291, 300 (N.D. Cal. 2010), abrogated on other grounds in In re ATM Fee
 25 Antitrust Litig., 686 F.3d 741, 755 n. 7 (9th Cir. 2012); In re Rubber Chemicals Antitrust Litig., 26 232 F.R.D. 346, 350-51 (N.D. Cal. 2005). Likewise, Rule 23(b) is satisfied because common 27 questions predominate and a class action is superior to pursuing numerous individual cases. See 28 In re Static Random Access Memory (SRAM) Antitrust Litig., 264 F.R.D. 603, 615 (N.D. Cal.
 2009); In re Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litig., No. M 02-1486 PJH, 2006 WL 1530166, at *6 (N.D. Cal. June 5, 2006).

Further, under Rule 23(g), class certification requires that the Court appoint class counsel. Based on their extensive experience and vigorous prosecution of this action, as well as this Court's prior orders with respect to earlier settlements, Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy and Hausfeld LLP should be appointed as Settlement Class Counsel pursuant to Rule 23(g) for

1 purposes of this Settlement, and the Class Representatives identified in the ANA Settlement 2 Agreement should be appointed as class representatives for the Settlement Classes.

3 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(c), Plaintiffs also move the Court for an 4 Order (1) approving the proposed notice program and forms (“Notice Program”), attached to the 5 accompanying Declaration of Dr. Shannon R. Wheatman as exhibits; (2) approving the claim 6 form attached to the accompanying Joint Declaration of Counsel for Plaintiffs; and (3) 7 preliminarily approving Plaintiffs’ proposed plan of allocation (“Plan of Allocation”). As with 8 the previously-approved notice programs, this proposed Notice Program sets forth a robust, 9 multifaceted approach to deliver plain and easy-to-understand information regarding the 10 settlement reached between Plaintiffs and ANA (with Plaintiffs, the “Settling Parties”).

11 Plaintiffs have retained a recognized notice expert, Kinsella Media, which has designed a 12 notice program that squarely and comprehensively addresses the specific nature of the 13 settlements and the settlement classes in this action. See generally Wheatman Decl.; see also 14 Joint Decl. ¶¶ 10-11. Kinsella Media prepared the highly successful notice program approved by 15 this Court in In re International Air Transportation Surcharge Antitrust Litig., No. 06-cv-01793-16 CRB (N.D. Cal.), as well as the notice plans previously approved by the Court with respect to 17 two earlier round of settlements, along with the litigation classes the Court certified in 2018. See 18 Wheatman Decl. ¶ 7.

19 The Notice Program combines the provision of: (1) multiple and targeted publications of 20 the class notice in those domestic and international paid media outlets most likely to inform 21 potential class members about the settlements; (2) press releases (i.e., earned media) that are 22 uniquely targeted towards potential class members; (3) placement of the class notice on internet 23 banner advertisements, including through the social media outlet Facebook; (4) establishment of 24 a website that provides notice of the settlements; (5) specific outreach to travel agents who were 25 likely to have sold Satogaeri fares encouraging the travel agents to be in touch with their clients 26 about the claims at issue in this Settlement; and (6) a toll free telephone support line to service 27 class members’ inquiries regarding the notice, which in turn will allow them to request a copy of 28 the notice delivered via direct mail.

1 Plaintiffs' Notice Program will fairly apprise potential class members of the existence of 2 the settlement agreement and their options under it. See generally Wheatman Decl. Finally, the 3 proposed Plan of Allocation will fairly compensate class members based on the scope of the 4 release provided by ANA. Joint Decl. ¶ 12. Accordingly, the Court should approve dissemination 5 of class notice and preliminarily approve the allocation of settlement funds and the claim form in 6 the manner and form proposed herein.

7 In short, the Settlement is within the range of possible approval and in the best interests 8 of all class members. It more than "justifies giving notice." See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2) (advisory 9 committee notes) (2018). Accordingly, Plaintiffs seek an order preliminarily approving the 10 Settlement Agreement, provisionally certifying the Settlement Class and appointing Co-Lead 11 Counsel for Plaintiffs as Settlement Class Counsel and the Class Representatives identified in the 12 ANA Settlement Agreement as class representatives, approving dissemination of class notice, 13 and preliminarily approving the allocation of settlement funds and the claim form in the manner 14 and form proposed herein.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIESI. SETTLEMENT NEGOTIATIONS

Class Counsel and counsel for ANA engaged in extensive arm's length negotiations before reaching the Settlement. See Joint Decl. ¶¶ 3-5 (describing negotiation scope and details). Settlement Class Counsel and defense counsel, all experienced and skilled attorneys, vigorously advocated their respective clients' positions. Initial negotiations, beginning more than a year ago, continued into December 2018, and included multiple rounds of negotiation and the use of renowned mediator Kenneth R. Feinberg. Id. ¶ 3. Mr. Feinberg also served as a neutral in determining an allocation of the $58 million between the three settlement classes in the ANA Settlement Agreement. Id. ¶ 7.

Before the Settlement was reached, Plaintiffs spent significant time investigating the claims against ANA, including through extensive discovery and proffer sessions from previously-settling Defendants. Id. ¶ 5. Indeed, Plaintiffs were preparing for a March 4, 2019 trial against ANA and had already engaged in extensive trial preparations, including producing expert reports and exchanging exhibit and witness lists with ANA. Id. Class Counsel believe the Settlement—$58 million in recovery allocated between three settlement classes—represents an excellent recovery for the classes and is fair, reasonable, and adequate. This proposed settlement, if finally approved, would bring an end to this long-running, complex antitrust class action.

II. THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

The proposed Settlement Agreement resolves all claims against ANA in the alleged conspiracy to fix or stabilize prices for air passenger travel, including associated surcharges, for international flights involving at least one flight segment between the United States and Asia/Oceania. The Class will receive $58 million. See Joint Decl., Ex. 1 at ¶¶ 1.20. The terms of the Agreement are outlined below.

A. Consideration Provided by the Settlement Agreement

ANA has agreed to pay $58 million to resolve all claims against it. Joint Decl., Ex. 1 at ¶ 1.20.² The settlement eliminates significant risk to the Classes. While Plaintiffs believe their case is strong, Plaintiffs bear the burden of establishing liability, impact, and damages. See, e.g., Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Visa U.S.A., Inc., 396 F.3d 96, 118 (2d Cir. 2005). If the parties had not reached Settlement with ANA, they would have had to continue preparing for a lengthy, costly, and complex trial. The risks to both sides are magnified by the fact that the outcome at trial in complex antitrust actions is uncertain. See In re High-Tech Employee Antitrust Litig., No. 11-CV-02509-LHK, 2015 WL 5159441, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 2, 2015). In addition, any trial outcome would be subject to potential appeals, which, at a minimum, would substantially delay any recovery achieved for the Classes. Id. Moreover, as expressly recognized by the Court, any trial outcome would have also been subject to a potential decertification order. See Order Granting Mot. Class Cert. at 17, ECF No. 1224 (“Class Cert. Order”). Taken together, these circumstances suggest that further litigation would have been costly, uncertain and would have detrimentally delayed any potential relief for the Classes. By contrast, the Settlement provide the Classes with timely, certain, and meaningful recovery.

The allocation of the $58 million total Settlement Amount between the Settlement Classes is as follows: (1) $39,440,752.50 to the Japan Class; (2) $11,059,247.50 to the Satogaeri Class; and (3) $7,500,000.00 to Settlement Class III. This allocation is based on the recommendation of Kenneth Feinberg, following his presiding over extensive settlement negotiations between the parties and his discussions with Class Counsel. See generally Feinberg Decl. ¶ 7. The allocation takes into account, inter alia, the potential each class had to recover at trial, previous settlement agreements in this case, and the amount of ANA’s commerce relative to the other Defendant airlines. See id. at ¶¶ 9-17.

B. The Scope of the Release

The settlement releases ANA from all claims arising from or relating to the anticompetitive pricing of passenger air transportation between the United States and ² Had Plaintiffs fully prevailed on their claims at trial, and their damages estimate accepted by the jury, Plaintiffs could have received approximately $92.4 million for single damages related to the Japan Class and between $22.8 and $29 million for single damages related to the Satogaeri Class. Joint Decl. ¶7.

1 Asia/Oceania with respect to the pricing of fares, fuel surcharges, or any other element or 2 component of pricing that were or could have been alleged in the Second Consolidated Class 3 Action Complaint. Joint Decl., Ex. 1 at ¶¶ 1.17.³ ANA will provide notice to the state attorneys 4 general pursuant to the Class Action Fairness Act. Joint Decl. ¶ 16.

5 III. PLAINTIFFS HAVE RETAINED A RENOWNED NOTICE EXPERT
 6 SPECIALIZING IN CLASS ACTION NOTIFICATION PROGRAMS

7 As they did with previous rounds of notice, Plaintiffs have retained Dr. Shannon R.
 8 Wheatman, the President of Kinsella Media, LLC (“Kinsella Media”), a firm that specializes in 9 the design and implementation of legal notification programs. Wheatman Decl. ¶ 6. Dr.
 10 Wheatman has leveraged their expertise and experience to design a notice program that provides 11 the best notice practicable to members of the Settlement Classes, in light of the class members’ 12 demographics and the media channels through which they can best be reached. Id. ¶¶ 6-8.

13 Kinsella Media has created a comprehensive and multifaceted notification program to 14 reach members of the Settlement Classes. The proposed notice program combines publication 15 through paid and earned media, online advertising and social media, and internet notice.

16 Specifically, the program will:

- 17 (1) Direct notice to claimants of the prior settlements in this litigation, and other likely 18 claimants. Wheatman Decl. ¶¶ 11-14.
- 19 (2) Provide extensive publication notice appearing in national magazines and local ethnic 20 newspapers and websites, including Time, Facebook, and 37 newspapers covering 21 Chinese, Filipino, and Japanese audiences. Notices will also be posted on websites 22 likely to be utilized by class members. Wheatman Decl. ¶¶ 23, 26-28.
- 23 (3) A nationwide press release will be distributed on PR Newswire’s US1 news circuit 24 reaching approximately 5,400 print and online media outlets and more than 4,000 25 websites, databases, and online services. Wheatman Decl. ¶ 37.

26
 27 ³ Because the settlement agreement includes Settlement Class III, the settlement releases claims 28 against ANA.

1 (4) Continued use of a dedicated settlement website—www.AirlineSettlement.com—to 2 enable potential Class Members to get information on the settlements. Wheatman 3 Decl. ¶ 38.

4 (5) A toll-free number will prompt the caller to choose one of the following languages: 5 English, Chinese (Simplified and Traditional), and Japanese. Wheatman Decl. ¶ 39.

6 (6) A post office box will also be established allowing members of the settlement classes 7 to contact Settlement Class Counsel by mail with specific requests or questions, 8 providing class members additional avenues to obtain pertinent information about 9 their rights. Wheatman Decl. ¶ 40.

10 (7) A special mailing will be made to travel agents who sold tickets that are part of the 11 Satogaeri Class, to help ensure outreach to travel agent’s clients and members of that 12 Class. Wheatman Decl. ¶ 15.

13 Because passenger mailing lists are not available from defendants, this combination of 14 internet and publication notice—coupled with direct mail notice to the claimants from previous 15 settlements—provides appropriate mechanisms to reach the settlement classes. Id., ¶ 9. The 16 “Notice Program meets due process standards and provides the best notice practicable to the 17 Class under the circumstances” Id., ¶ 10.

18 IV. THE COURT SHOULD PRELIMINARILY APPROVE THE SETTLEMENT

19 A. Class Action Settlement Procedure

20 Proposed class action settlements must be approved by the Court. See Fed. R. Civ. P.
21 23(e). Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court certify the proposed Settlement Classes, 22 preliminarily approve the Settlement, and appoint Class Counsel as Settlement Class Counsel.
23 See A. Conte & H.B. Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions § 11:25 (4th ed. 2002) (“Newberg”) 24 (outlining the steps of preliminary approval and class certification, notice, and a fairness hearing, 25 which are required prior to final approval of a class settlement and are designed to safeguard the 26 rights of absent class members).

27 B. Standards for Preliminary Settlement Approval

28 “[T]here is an overriding public interest in settling and quieting litigation . . .

1 particularly . . . in class action suits.” Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco Corp., 529 F.2d 943, 950 (9th
 2 Cir. 1976). The district court has substantial discretion in deciding to approve a class action 3 settlement. See Churchill Vill., L.L.C. v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004); Class
 4 Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th Cir. 1992). Preliminary approval requires 5 that the terms of the proposed settlement fall within the “range of possible approval.” See 6 Vasquez v. Coast Valley Roofing, Inc., 670 F. Supp. 2d 1114, 1125 (E.D. Cal. 2009); In re
 7 Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1079 (N.D. Cal. 2007). Preliminary approval 8 is appropriate when the terms are “sufficient to warrant public notice and a hearing.” See 9 Manual for Complex Litigation § 13.14 (4th ed. 2004) (“Manual”); see also Fed. R. Civ. P.
 10 23(c)(2) (advisory committee notes) (2018) (preliminary approval appropriate where settlement 11 “justifies giving notice” to the proposed class).

12 Preliminary approval should be granted “[w]here the proposed settlement appears to be 13 the product of serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does 14 not improperly grant preferential treatment to class representatives or segments of the class and 15 falls within the range of possible approval.” In re NASDAQ Mkt.-Makers Antitrust Litig., 176 16 F.R.D. 99, 102 (S.D.N.Y. 1997). In addition, under amendments to Rule 23 that went into 17 effect in December 2018—amendments that have been characterized as “form over substance,” 18 Swinton v. SquareTrade, Inc., 2019 WL 617791, at *5 (S.D. Iowa Feb. 14, 2019)— courts 19 should determine at preliminary approval whether “giving notice is justified by the parties’ 20 showing that the court will likely be able to: (i) approve the proposal under Rule 23(e)(2); and 21 (ii) certify the class for purposes of judgment on the proposal.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)(B)(i– 22 ii). Application of these factors here supports preliminary approval of the Settlement. As shown 23 below, the proposed Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate—and, as with prior 24 settlements in this action, likely to be approved at final approval. Finally, as the following 25 demonstrates, Plaintiffs have complied with the Northern District’s newly-promulgated 26 Procedural Guidance for Class Action Settlements. Therefore, the Court should preliminarily 27 approve the settlement and permit notice of the Settlement to be disseminated to the Settlement 28 Classes.

1 C. The Proposed Settlement is Likely to be Approved at Final Approval

2 The proposed Settlement will almost certainly be approved after the final fairness 3 hearing because it satisfies the requirements of Rule 23(e)(2). The class representatives and 4 Class Counsel have adequately represented the Classes, obtaining a significant result after 5 negotiating at arm’s length, with the assistance of a nationally-renowned mediator, to reach the 6 Settlement. The proposal also treats members of each Settlement Class equitably relative to 7 each other, with a pro rata distribution within each class and Mr. Feinberg’s recommendation 8 for allocation between the Classes. And the relief is more than adequate, garnering an excellent 9 result for the Classes that will provide immediate compensation without continued risk.

10 The Settlement is entitled to “an initial presumption of fairness” because it resulted 11 from arm’s length negotiations among experienced counsel. See Newberg § 11.41. These 12 negotiations occurred over a span of more than one year and collectively involved telephonic 13 and face-to-face meetings; substantial correspondence; and the review of industry materials, 14 documents produced by all of the Defendants, and transactional data produced in this litigation.
15 The negotiations were sharply contested and conducted in good faith. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 3-5. The 16 settlement was only reached after engaging an experienced mediator—Mr. Kenneth Feinberg, 17 weeks after an initially unsuccessful, two-day mediation session, also overseen by Mr.
18 Feinberg. “‘Great weight’ is accorded to the recommendation of counsel, who are most closely 19 acquainted with the facts of the underlying litigation.” Nat’l Rural Telecomm. Coop. v.
20 DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 528 (C.D. Cal. 2004). Thus, “the trial judge, absent fraud, 21 collusion, or the like, should be hesitant to substitute its own judgment for that of counsel.” Id.
22 (internal citation omitted). Class Counsel believe that the Settlement is in the best interests of 23 the Settlement Classes.

24 Moreover, the total Settlement Amount of $58,000,000 is significant and compares 25 favorably to other antitrust settlements, including previous settlements in this action for which 26 final approval has already been granted. See Order Granting Mot. Final Approval, ECF No.
27 1009 (granting final approval of $39.502 million in settlements for eight defendants); Order 28 Granting Mot. Fees, ECF No. 1252 (“Fees Order”); Order Granting Final Approval

1 Settlements, ECF No. 1259 (granting final approval of $50.65 million in settlements for four 2 defendants).

3 V. THE COURT SHOULD CERTIFY THE SETTLEMENT CLASSES

4 The Court should certify Settlement Class III. As a preliminary matter, the Court has 5 already certified Settlement Classes I and II for litigation purposes, see Class Cert. Order, and 6 there is no reason to disturb those findings now. Settlement Class III, which is substantively the 7 same as settlement classes the Court has previously certified for settlement purposes in this 8 action, should be certified as a Settlement Class again here. It is well-established that price-fixing 9 actions like this are appropriate for class certification. See, e.g., In re TFT-LCD (Flat Panel)
10 Antitrust Litig., 267 F.R.D. 291 (N.D. Cal. 2010) (“LCD”); In re Static Random Access (SRAM)
11 Antitrust Litig., No. C 07-01819 CW, 2008 WL 4447592 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 29, 2008). Federal 12 Rule of Civil Procedure 23 provides that a court should certify a class action where, as here, 13 Plaintiffs satisfy the prerequisites of Rule 23(a) (numerosity, commonality, typicality, and 14 adequacy) and 23(b) (predominance and superiority).⁴ This does not involve a determination of 15 whether Plaintiffs will ultimately prevail on the substantive merits of their claims. Eisen v.
16 Carlisle & Jacquelin, 417 U.S. 156, 177-78 (1974). The only issue is whether Plaintiffs satisfy 17 the Rule 23 requirements. Id. at 178.

18 A. Settlement Class III Satisfies Rule 23(a)

19 1. The Class is so numerous that joinder is impracticable.

20 The first requirement for maintaining a class action is that its members are so numerous 21 that joinder would be impracticable. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1). Courts have generally found that 22 the numerosity requirement is satisfied when class members exceed forty. Newberg § 18:4; Or.
23 Laborers-Emp’rs. Health & Welfare Trust Fund v. Philip Morris, Inc., 188 F.R.D. 365, 372-73 24 (D. Or. 1998). Geographic dispersal of plaintiffs may also support a finding that joinder is 25 “impracticable.” Rubber Chems., 232 F.R.D. at 350-51; see also LCD, 267 F.R.D. at 300 26 (stating that given the nature of the LCD market, “common sense dictates that joinder would be

27 _____
28 ⁴ Rule 23(b)(3)’s “manageability” requirements need not be satisfied in order to certify a settlement class. Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997).

1 impracticable.”). Here, Settlement Class III consists of hundreds of thousands of members who 2 purchased qualifying airfare involving at least one flight segment originating in the United 3 States. Proposed Settlement Class III satisfies the numerosity requirement.

4 2. This case involves common questions of law and fact.

5 The second prerequisite to class certification is the existence of “questions of law or fact 6 common to the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2). The Ninth Circuit has made clear that the 7 commonality requirement is to be “construed permissively.” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 8 F.3d 1011, 1019 (9th Cir. 1998). Commonality is satisfied by the existence of a single common 9 issue. Blackie v. Barrack, 524 F.2d 891, 901 (9th Cir. 1975). “Courts consistently have held 10 that the very nature of a conspiracy antitrust action compels a finding that common questions of 11 law and fact exist.” Rubber Chems., 232 F.R.D. at 351 (internal citation omitted). Here, all 12 class members share common questions of law and fact that revolve around the existence, 13 scope, effectiveness, and implementation of Defendants’ alleged conspiracy, and that are 14 central to each class members’ claims. Similar questions have satisfied the commonality 15 requirement in antitrust class actions in this District. LCD, 267 F.R.D. at 300 (stating “the very 16 nature of a conspiracy antitrust action compels a finding that common questions of law and fact 17 exist”) (citing Rubber Chems., 232 F.R.D. at 351; DRAM, 2006 WL 1530166, at *3).

18 3. Representative Plaintiffs’ claims are typical of the claims of each Class.

19 “Under [Rule 23]’s permissive standards, representative claims are ‘typical’ if they are 20 reasonably co-extensive with those of absent class members; they need not be substantially 21 identical.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020. “Generally, the class representatives ‘must be part of the 22 class and possess the same interest and suffer the same injury as the class members.’” LCD, 23 267 F.R.D. at 300 (quoting Gen. Tel. Co. of the Sw. v. Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 156 (1982)).

24 Typicality is easily satisfied in horizontal price-fixing cases because “where[] it is 25 alleged that the defendants engaged in a common scheme relative to all members of the class, 26 there is a strong assumption that the claims of the representative parties will be typical of the 27 absent class members.” In re Catfish Antitrust Litig., 826 F. Supp. 1019, 1035 (N.D. Miss.
28 1993). As such, factual differences among individual transactions or in the amount of damages

1 do not undermine typicality, so long as the damages suffered by Plaintiffs and the Classes arise
 2 from the purchase of products affected by the conspiracy. See Armstrong v. Davis, 275 F.3d
 3 849, 869 (9th Cir. 2001), abrogated on other grounds by Johnson v. California, 543 U.S. 499
 4 (2005). Here, Plaintiffs assert the same claims on behalf of themselves and Settlement Class 5 III—that they purchased air passenger tickets from Defendants and were overcharged due to the 6 alleged antitrust conspiracy between the Defendants and their co-conspirators. Therefore, 7 Plaintiffs’ claims are typical of the claims of the other class members.

8 4. Representative Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately represent the interests 9 of the Class and should be appointed as Class Representatives.

10 A representative plaintiff is an adequate representative of the class if he or she: (1) does 11 not have any interests antagonistic to or in conflict with the interests of the class; and (2) is 12 represented by qualified counsel who will vigorously prosecute the class’s interests. Hanlon, 13 150 F.3d at 1020. Here, the Class Representatives satisfy both of these requirements. The 14 interests of Plaintiffs and members of Settlement Class III are aligned because they all claimed 15 similar injury in the form of higher airline ticket prices for travel from the United States to 16 Asia/Oceania due to Defendants’ alleged conspiracy, and all seek the same relief. The Class 17 Representatives understand the allegations in this case and have reviewed pleadings and 18 collected or produced documents requested by Defendants. Joint Decl. ¶ 9. By proving their 19 own claims, the Class Representatives will necessarily prove the claims of their fellow class 20 members; as such they should be named as Class Representatives for Settlement Class III.

21 Further, Plaintiffs are represented by highly qualified counsel. Both Cotchett, Pitre & 22 McCarthy and Hausfeld LLP have successfully prosecuted numerous antitrust class actions and 23 are committed to vigorously prosecuting this action on behalf of all of the Settlement Classes.
 24 They have undertaken the responsibilities assigned by the Court and have directed the efforts of 25 other Plaintiffs’ counsel. Class Counsel’s prosecution of this case amply demonstrates their 26 diligence and competence. Rule 23(a)(4) is satisfied.

27 B. Settlement Class III Satisfies the Requirements of Rule 23(b)(3)

28 1. Common questions of law or fact predominate over individual questions.

1 “Courts have frequently found that whether a price-fixing conspiracy exists is a 2 common question that predominates over other issues because proof of an alleged conspiracy 3 will focus on defendants’ conduct and not on the conduct of individual class members.” LCD, 4 267 F.R.D. at 310. Courts have held that this issue alone is sufficient to satisfy the 5 predominance requirement. See, e.g., SRAM, 264 F.R.D. at 612-14. Therefore, common issues 6 relating to the existence and effect of the alleged conspiracy on air passenger ticket prices for 7 travel from the United States to Asia/Oceania predominate over any questions arguably 8 affecting individual class members. Proof of how Defendants implemented and enforced their 9 conspiracy will also be common to Settlement Class III and predicated on establishing the 10 existence of Defendants’ antitrust conspiracy. These overriding issues satisfy the predominance 11 requirement.

12 2. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and 13 efficient adjudication of this case.

14 “[I]f common questions are found to predominate in an antitrust action, then courts 15 generally have ruled that the superiority prerequisite of Rule 23(b)(3) is satisfied.” Wright, 16 Miller & Kane, Federal Practice and Procedure: Civil Procedure § 1781 at 254-55 (3d ed.
17 2004). That is because in price-fixing cases, “the damages of individual indirect purchasers are 18 likely to be too small to justify litigation, but a class action would offer those with small claims 19 the opportunity for meaningful redress.” SRAM, 264 F.R.D. at 615. Here, a class action is 20 superior to individual litigation because “[n]umerous individual actions would be expensive 21 and time-consuming and would create the danger of conflicting decisions as to persons 22 similarly situated.” Lerwill v. Inflight Motion Pictures, Inc., 582 F.2d 507, 512 (9th Cir. 1978).

23 Further, requiring individual cases would deprive many class members of any practical 24 means of redress. Because prosecution of an antitrust conspiracy against economically 25 powerful defendants is difficult and expensive, most class members would be effectively 26 foreclosed from pursuing their claims absent class certification. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1023; 27 see also SRAM, 264 F.R.D. at 615. Therefore, a class action is the superior method of 28 adjudicating the claims raised in this case.

1 C. The Court Should Appoint Class Counsel as Settlement Class Counsel.

2 “An order that certifies a class action . . . must appoint class counsel under Rule 23(g).” Fed.
 3 R. Civ. P. 23(c)(1)(B). Courts must consider (i) counsel’s work in identifying or investigating 4 claims; (ii) counsel’s experience in handling the types of claims asserted; (iii) counsel’s 5 knowledge of applicable law; and (iv) the resources counsel will commit to representing the 6 class. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(g)(1)(A). After considering competing motions, the Court appointed 7 Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy and Hausfeld LLP as Settlement Class Counsel. See Order Interim
 8 Class Counsel, ECF. No. 130; Order Granting Mot. Substitution, ECF No. 175. Cotchett, Pitre & 9 McCarthy and Hausfeld LLP are willing and able to vigorously prosecute this action and to 10 devote all necessary resources, as they have demonstrated over the last 12 years. Indeed, the 11 work they have done since their appointment provides substantial basis for the Court’s earlier 12 finding that they satisfy Rule 23(g)’s criteria. Accordingly, Cotchett, Pitre & McCarthy and 13 Hausfeld LLP should be appointed as Settlement Class Counsel for purposes of these 14 Settlements, as they were for the previous Settlements in this action.

15 VI. PLAINTIFFS’ PROPOSED NOTICE PROGRAM COMPORTS WITH THE 16 REQUIREMENTS OF RULE 23 AND DUE PROCESS

17 In Rule 23(b)(3) actions, “the court must direct to class members the best notice that is 18 practicable under the circumstances,” and that notice “must clearly and concisely state in plain, 19 easily understood language:” (1) the nature of the action; (2) the definition of the class certified; 20 (3) the class claims, issues, or defenses; (4) that a class member may enter an appearance through 21 an attorney if the member so desires; (5) that the court will exclude from the class any member 22 who requests exclusion; (6) the time and manner for requesting exclusion; and (7) the binding 23 effect of a class judgment on members under Rule 23(c)(3). Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B).

24 It is well-settled that notice by publication is appropriate where, as here, “class members’ 25 names and addresses cannot be determined with reasonable efforts.” Ross v. Trex Co., No. 09-26 00670-JSW, 2013 WL 79129, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 4, 2013) (quoting Juris v. Inamed Corp., 27 685 F.3d 1294, 1321 (11th Cir. 2012)); see also In re Agent Orange Prod. Liab. Litig., 818 F.2d 28 145, 168–69 (2d Cir.1987) (finding that unidentified absent class members that could not be

1 located through reasonable efforts did not need to be provided with individual, mailed notice in 2 order to be bound).

3 The Notice Program proposed by Plaintiffs provides a thorough, multilayered approach to 4 notice by publication designed to reach the members of the settlement classes, and in fact does so 5 multiple times. Wheatman Decl. ¶¶ 9-40; see also, e.g., Ross, 2013 WL 791229, at *1 (“[A]ctual 6 notice is not required Due Process does not entitle a class member to ‘actual notice,’ but 7 rather to the best notice practicable, reasonably calculated under the circumstances to apprise 8 him of the pendency of the class action and give him a chance to be heard.”) (internal quotation 9 omitted). The rigorous Notice Program proposed by Kinsella Media plainly satisfies 10 requirements imposed by Rule 23 and the Due Process clause of the United States Constitution.

11 Moreover, the contents of the notice satisfactorily inform the members of the settlement 12 classes of their rights under the settlements. See Wheatman Decl. Exs. 2-6. The proposed notice 13 form includes: (i) the case caption; (ii) a description of the Settlement Classes; (iii) a description 14 of the settlement agreements, including the monetary consideration provided to the settlement 15 classes; (iv) the names of Settlement Class Counsel; (v) a description of the releases provided by 16 the settlement classes; (vi) the Fairness Hearing date; (vii) information about the Fairness 17 Hearing; (viii) information about the deadline for filing objections to the settlement agreements; 18 (ix) a statement of the deadline for filing requests for exclusion from the settlement classes; (x)
19 the consequences of exclusion or remaining in the settlement classes; (xi) how the Settlement 20 Class Counsel will be compensated and that additional information regarding Settlement Class 21 Counsel’s fees and costs will be posted on the website prior to the deadline for objections; and 22 (xii) how to obtain further information about the proposed settlement agreements, including 23 through the website maintained by the claims administrator that will include links to the notice, 24 motions for approval and for attorneys’ fees and other important documents in the case. See id.; 25 see also Newberg § 11:53 at 167 (notice is “adequate if it may be understood by the average 26 class member”); Lamb v. Bitech, Inc., No. 3:11-cv-05583-EDL MED, 2013 WL 4013166, at *4
27 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 5, 2013). Notice also complies with the Northern District of California’s 28 Procedural Guidance for Class Action Settlements (published Nov. 1, 2018; updated Dec. 5,

1 2018). Accordingly, the Notice Program and accompanying forms are reasonable and adequate 2 and are fairly calculated to apprise class members of their rights under the settlements. See
 3 Wheatman Decl. ¶¶ 9-10.

4 Plaintiffs have retained Rust Consulting (“Rust”) as the settlement administrator in this 5 action. To that end, Rust works with Kinsella and Settlement Class Counsel to assist with the 6 implementation of the notice program and to address claims administration and distribution. Rust 7 was selected as the claims administrator for this settlement because it has been working with 8 Settlement Class Counsel on this matter for several years.⁵ A schedule of estimated costs from 9 Kinsella media is attached as Exhibit C to the Joint Declaration. Approximately $400,000 in 10 remaining costs is needed to pay Rust to administer this settlement and to distribute funds from 11 all settlements in this action. See Joint Decl. at ¶14. Given both the size of recovery in this action 12 and the geographic scope of potential class members, the amounts presented are reasonable. See 13 id. Payment for settlement administration will be made from the Settlement Amount.

14 In the first two rounds of settlements, which had total settlement funds of $39.502 million 15 and $50.65 million (see Fees Order),⁶ Plaintiffs used a similar notice plan to what is proposed 16 here, using paid media, direct notice, postcard, and email. See Orders Notice Program, ECF Nos.
 17 968, 974, 1172, 1266. The notice plan provided great results. The claims rate for the first round 18 of settlements, for example, was 7%, based on claims filed representing nearly 7 million tickets.
 19 See Suppl. Mem. Mot. Notice Program, ECF No. 1160. For the first and second rounds, the 20 combined claims rate was 17.7% representing 17 million tickets. See Wheatman Decl. at ¶ 46.
 21 Based on the claims received to date, Plaintiffs estimate that each ticket will pay about $5/ticket 22 for members of prior settlement classes in this case, which are similar in scope to Settlement 23

24 ⁵ Prior to the first settlements in this litigation, Class Counsel solicited bids from other claims 25 administrators, and then engaged in substantial further negotiations with those that responded to 26 ensure a cost-competitive retention was secured. Not including this case, Class Counsel have 27 worked with Rust on five separate matters over the last two years. See Joint Decl. at ¶ 15 (listing 28 cases for which Rust has been the claims administrator for either Hausfeld or Cotchett).

⁶ While the classes in the previous settlement rounds had slightly different definitions, the number of class members for most of the earlier settlement classes is approximately 100 million, the same as in Settlement Class III. See Wheatman Decl. ¶ 46.

1 Class III. A per-ticket allocation for the Satogaeri and Japan class is unknown at this time 2 because there is no claims history for either of those Settlement Classes.

3 VII. THE PROPOSED PLAN OF ALLOCATION IS FAIR AND REASONABLE

4 “Approval of a plan for the allocation of a class settlement fund is governed by the same 5 legal standards that are applicable to approval of the settlement; the distribution plan must be 6 ‘fair, reasonable and adequate.’” In re Citric Acid Antitrust Litig., 145 F. Supp. 2d 1152, 1154 7 (N.D. Cal. 2001) (internal citations omitted). When allocating funds, “[i]t is reasonable to 8 allocate the settlement funds to class members based on the extent of their injuries or the strength 9 of their claims on the merits.” In re Omnivision Technologies, Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1045-10 46 (N.D. Cal. 2008) (internal citations omitted) (approving securities class action settlement 11 allocation on a “per-share basis”); Four in One Co. v. S.K. Foods, L.P., 2:08-CV-3017 KJM 12 EFB, 2014 WL 4078232, at *15 (E.D. Cal. Aug. 14, 2014) (approving “plan of allocation 13 providing for a pro rata distribution of the net settlement fund based on verified claimants’ 14 volume of qualifying purchases” as “fair, adequate, and reasonable”).

15 The proposed Plan of Allocation—a pro rata distribution of settlement funds based on 16 the number of tickets for U.S. originating travel proffered by class members for each class during 17 the claims process—will fairly compensate class members for their injuries. Joint Decl. ¶ 12.
18 Plaintiffs’ proposed claim form is not burdensome or does not erect unnecessary barriers to filing 19 a claim, and merely asks class members to identify the number of qualifying purchases they 20 made by airline and to indicate which Settlement Class or Classes to which they belong. The 21 form therefore permits the Claims Administrator to accurately calculate the proper distributions 22 to be made to class members under the settlement agreement. See Joint Decl. Ex. B. The 23 allocation among the Settlement Classes is based on the recommendation of Mr. Feinberg, after 24 his review of the case and based on his familiarity with the record. Feinberg Decl. ¶¶ 9-17. This 25 Plan of Allocation is thus “fair, reasonable and adequate” and merits approval by the Court. See 26 Citric Acid, 145 F. Supp. at 1154.

VIII. ATTORNEYS' FEES AND EXPENSES

Settlement Class Counsel will submit a motion for attorneys' fees and for reimbursement of expenses at least 35 days before the opt out and objection deadline for members of the Settlement Classes. Settlement Class Counsel will seek up to 33% of the $58 million settlement with ANA, net of any costs and expenses. From the case's inception through March 20, 2019, Plaintiffs' counsel have incurred approximately $45 million in lodestar, representing approximately 108,834 hours of work. See Joint Decl. ¶ 17. One-third of the ANA settlement fund, which is more than what Class Counsel will request from the Court because Class Counsel will seek fees based on the net fund, is approximately $19.333 million. When added to the fees the Court has already awarded in this matter, $20,038,071.51 (see Fees Order), an award of that amount would bring total fees awarded to approximately $39.371 million, which means the total multiplier in the case would remain a negative multiplier at approximately .87. Settlement Class Counsel will expend additional time finalizing the settlement, including preparing for final approval and working with the claims administrator and notice provider. The lodestar and the negative multiplier will change between now and when Settlement Class Counsel make their final request for fees and expenses prior to final approval.

Settlement Class Counsel will have incurred no more than $1.7 million in unreimbursed litigation expenses by the time they seek final approval of the settlement with ANA. See Joint Decl. ¶ 18. In addition to the foregoing, following resolution of a dispute with one of Class Counsel's litigation vendors, Settlement Class Counsel received $1.25 million to resolve this dispute with the vendor, which Settlement Class Counsel will subtract from any requested reimbursement of costs from the Court. See id. Because Settlement Class Counsel continue to work on this matter in order to finalize and administer the settlement, the above merely represents a good-faith estimate that is subject to change.

IX. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court grant their motion.
